

Hey Dr. Mercer,

Just tossing my hat in the ring for the pharmacy gig at St. Joe's—heard y'all need someone who can keep their cool when things get wild. That's my zone. I've clocked five years juggling crazy IVs, chasing consults all over, and basically living in the ICU. I'm one of those BCPS people too, for what that's worth. Plus, I've put in serious work on antimicrobial stewardship—stopping resistance before it ruins everyone's day.

Honestly, your crew's rep in the community? Super impressive. I'd actually be pumped to be a part of that.

Catch you soon,
Hanna Wexler
