Dear Ms. Andrews,

I'm writing to apply for the Software Development Internship at CloudShift. As a junior at Georgia Tech majoring in computer science, I've focused on software systems and AI.

On my latest Distributed Systems project, I helped design a load-balancing module for a fictional cloud provider. I also contribute to open-source Python libraries on a regular basis and find it enjoyable to write testable, clean code.

I'm looking forward to the chance to grow with a team that values both performance and empathy in software.

Sincerely,

Riya Patel
