

Dear Recruitment Officer,

Joining your international cabin crew has been a goal of mine since watching your service in action during a long-haul trip last year. The attention to grace, safety, and professionalism left a lasting impression.

With prior experience in luxury retail, fluency in English and Arabic, and completion of aviation hospitality courses, I'm confident I could represent your brand with the elegance and care your passengers expect.

I'd love to be part of your team.

Sincerely,
Layla Nassar
